

TRAVELER'S POEM

*"There's just quiet.
Then, change rustles
gently
Through the lives
besides.
Like winds sweeping,
Leaving invisible
impressions
In the grasses.
Change and its course--
What was once in fellowship,*

*Direction parts.
After the wind--
Silence, stillness, Amplifies that which was dearest.
No more,
Yet immortal- -
Countless memories.
Time
Inevitably cannot stall,*

*But each traveler's
heart
Travels engraved
With the friendship
That was breathed."*

Page Count: 91

Retail Price: $17.99

ISBN: 978-1-951561-14-7

Publication Date: April 2020

Target Audience: Women aged 25-50

Genre: Poetry/Inspiration & Religious

Do you enjoy love poems? Are you a romantic? Will you allow me to tell you of the stories of love sought and chosen? Will you allow me to tell you of how my Heavenly Father saved me from the un-holy and what He taught me through the loves I chose? In this book you will find poems of growing to understand the reflections of Love. Poems of experiencing what chosen human love offered. Poems about the Love Creator has for nature through His eyes. Poems about an untold, personally epic Heart that understood my need and craving for love and my ability to love not understood by those around me and His craving to share a heavenly Love with me and be with me. If you enjoy love poems and have a great capacity to love, then this book is a must for you!

